It has been estimated that the electric power industry in Great Britain is wasting 55,000,000 tons of coal annually, due to a lack of centralization and standardization.

In the early days of the fire insurance business each company in London maintained its own fire brigade.

TO USE BIG FORCE IN REPAIRING BREAKS IN CONSOLIDATED CANAL

MESA, Feb. 27.—Expecting to use over 400 men in the reconstruction of the Consolidated canal northeast of Mesa that was badly damaged by the high waters in the Salt River last week, the local office of the Water Users' association yesterday issued an urgent call for 50 tents, or as many more as can be furnished.

Evidencing the cooperation with which the entire Mesa section is meeting the water users in their urgent work of putting the Consolidated in shape again, the board of directors of the Commercial club at a lunch-business meeting yesterday noon, appointed a committee of John Cummings, Paul Barker and E. H. Beardsley, to keep in direct touch with the water users and to extend every aid possible. Immediately the committee went to work securing the needed tents, the necessary number it is thought being available from local farmers who used them the past season for house cotton pickers. Anyone who can furnish a tent should communicate with the above committee, C. Fred Brackette or C. J. Garrity, at the Water Users.

Already the work of reconstruction is under way and continuous shifts of men, teams and wagons are busy working on the new canal way that is to be excavated further back and clear water harm from the flood waters. Camps have been established near the scene of the work, and additional help is being added on the job as rapidly as it can be laid out. More men, teams and feresos will be needed soon, and the officials are counting on the necessary aid and assistance in providing these from the local ranchers.

By means of a short cut through the Eastern canal, a limited supply of 10,000 inches of water was again placed in the Consolidated below the damaged segment yesterday. This flow will be distributed proportionately to the users on the ditch.

Schools Out Circuit Day Rather than to have half of the children in school all day, the authorities have arranged for a half-day session for all of the children for next Monday, when the Al G. Barnes circus is here for the big street parade in the forenoon and the two performances, afternoon and evening. Children were notified yesterday that the regular school session would be held in the forenoon, the circus officials concurring in an arrangement to have the big parade in the morning pass by each school building that children might be dismissed at noon or the remainder of the day. The circus is due in here Sunday evening and will set up its tents in one of the fields just outside the city limits on the west of town.

Tire Demonstration Today Ways and means to preserve a tire and get more mileage out of it will be covered in a demonstration to be con-state convention in Tucson today.

Finances Come in Good Reports from the finance committee of the Commercial club at the directors' meeting yesterday noon, showed that a $700 monthly income to the club has been created through the canvass made during the past week. Additional subscriptions are expected during the next few days. Applications for the position of secretary or the club were given some consideration and a committee of L. H. Van Spankeren, J. T. Bush and L. E. Holcomb was appointed to go more thoroughly into the qualifications furnished by the various applicants and to secure the best man possible.

Attend Convention
Others who have modern and convenient new homes on their school land tracts are Mr. and Mrs. Gant, one mile west of town, the Greggs, Hendersons, Burnhams and Garriens.
